The quality of the finished DVD is dependent upon the original video quality and the length of the video. To achieve full DVD quality, video conversion can be no longer than 60 minutes on the DVD. Longer video times can be put on a DVD with a loss of quality as the video gets longer. We recommend no longer than 120 minutes (2 hours). We are able to work from VHS or mini DV tapes.

We will not copy any copyright material from any medium without a verifiable signed release.
